ProPak India offered us an incredible range of packaging options, from tin to box packaging, helping us explore solutions to present our products more effectively. This event is a must-attend for packaging professionals, showcasing innovations that inspire and drive better branding strategies.

Sidana
Supply Chain Manager

As a professional seeking new materials and suppliers, ProPak India proved invaluable. It brought the entire supply chain under one roof, streamlining my search for reliable vendors and supporting my professional growth. Hosting this event annually or semi-annually would greatly benefit industry stakeholders.

Dr. Vanjari Lingam
Executive director Region
Bhoomi Nutraceuticals Private Ltd

ProPak India is a fantastic platform where I discovered cutting-edge packaging systems and even made some purchases. It's an excellent event for exploring new models and methodologies, especially for newcomers in chemical processing and packaging. Kudos to the organizers for creating such a valuable experience for the industry!

It's been a great opportunity to connect with customers and expand our presence in the food industry, especially in conjunction with food ingredients. ProPak has provided valuable exposure and a chance to engage with potential customers, showcasing high-value products. It's been a great platform, and we look forward to a continued growth here.

Deepak Kamath

Managing Director India
Serac Packaging India Pvt Ltd

The packaging and processing industry is rapidly evolving, and ProPak allows us to showcase innovations like Bluestream, our chemical-free decontamination solution, which helps reduce operating costs. ProPak is an ideal platform to present our innovations, share our R&D contributions, and connect with the right audience in the packaging industry

Arunkumar

Holostik India Ltd
Senior Manager - South India Region

ProPak India is a key packaging expo that brings together brand owners and customers looking for solutions in machinery, product security, labeling, and biodegradable packaging. ProPak addresses these needs by showcasing advanced packaging solutions. The event serves industries like pharma, tobacco, and others, where counterfeiting is a concern, and security products are crucial for brand protection.
